Learning Objective:

To write a story. The True Story of Goldilocks and the Three Bears.

I think:

My teacher thinks:

Goldilocks was a polite young girl who ~~so beautiful~~ had beautiful blue eyes <sup>which</sup> shone in the sunlight. She was kind and obedient. Sadly Goldilocks had chickenpox and her parents were at work so she had to go to the doctor on her own. The forest was so steep she had to ~~wear~~ wear hiking boots. She ~~thought~~ ~~decided~~ decided to take a short-cut because she had <sup>to</sup> scratch herself because <sup>her skin</sup> itchy <sup>was</sup> ~~so~~ that she had to her special cream quickly to heal her chickenpox.

In the distance,

Goldilocks ~~she~~ ~~stamped~~ stamped through the deep dark forest shivering with cold. She wrapped herself up with her warm cloak. Finally, she <sup>arrived</sup> at a wooden cottage it had an enormous sign which said "WELCOME!" "This must <sup>be</sup> the doctor's!" said Goldilocks. Relieved with pleasure, Goldilocks stepped inside amazed to find 3 ~~rows~~ <sup>warm</sup> chairs, porridge and 3 comfy beds. She ran to the chairs happy to rest her legs after her long walk. Then she spotted 3 bowls of delicious porridge and thought the doctors had left it out for the patients who were waiting. "How nice!" she said and gobbled the porridge all up. Then she saw the beds and went onto the first one but it was too hard. To the second bed it was too soft but the bed
